

The background image shows the interior of a church. At the top, a large, pointed arch window looks out onto a landscape with trees. Below the window is a colorful stained-glass panel depicting a landscape with a waterfall. In the center, there is an altar area with a small table covered in a white cloth, surrounded by greenery and flowers. To the left and right of the altar are tall, thin candle holders with multiple lit candles. The walls are light-colored and feature small framed pictures. The overall atmosphere is bright and serene.
